STATE TABLES.

STATE TABLES.

The State tables annexed present the usual summary of interesting facts.

Table "A" shows the population of Maryland by counties and the number of white and colored, according to the census of 1900.

Table "B" shows the population between five and twenty and the quarterly distribution of the State school tax to the white schools of the several counties and the city of Baltimore.

Table "C" shows the colored population between five and twenty, and the quarterly distribution of the State school tax to colored schools of the several counties and the city of Baltimore.

Table "D" shows the assessed value of the property subject to taxation in the several counties, with the amounts, as "State School Tax," "Free School Fund," "Academic Fund," "Appropriation to Colored Schools," and the "County School Tax."

Table "E" shows receipts from all sources, with the totals (including balances carried over).

Table "F" shows the expenditures of the several counties under the items of teachers' salaries, incidental expenses, books and stationery, building, repairing and furniture, supervision and office expenses, miscellaneous, interest, indebtedness paid, with the balance on hand and totals.

Table "G" shows the number of pupils in the primary grades, and the number studying special branches.

Table "H" shows the number of schools in each county, the number of months schools were open, the number of teachers, male and female, the number of different pupils, the average number of pupils enrolled and in attendance, and the highest number enrolled in one term.

Table "I" shows the cost of the colored schools and the statistics (under the same heads as those mentioned in Table "H") of the colored schools separately.

Table "K" shows the receipts from all sources for colored schools (including balance carried over).

Table "M" gives the statistics of the several colleges receiving State donations and of the State Normal School.

Table "N" gives the statistics of the several schools and academies receiving State donations.

The county reports give in detail the enrollment and the average attendance for each term, and the expenses of each individual school, under the heads of rent, fuel, repairs, incidentals, furniture, blackboards and stoves, books, and teachers' salaries. Every citizen can thus know what the school in his district has cost, and may become the auditor of the accounts. It is believed that no State in the Union furnishes a similarly minute detail of expenses.

ARBOR AND HIGHWAY DAY.

Arbor and Highway Day was observed by all the public schools of the State on the 11th day of April, 1902, in pursuance of the following proclamation by His Excellency, the Governor:

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT, ANNAPOLIS, MARYLAND.

PROCLAMATION.

To the People of Maryland:

WHEREAS, By joint resolution, No. 15, passed by the General Assembly of Maryland at the January Session of 1884, the Governor is authorized and directed to issue annually a proclamation, designating a day in April for the planting of trees, to be known as "Arbor and Highway Day;" and

WHEREAS, It has been suggested to me that it would be appropriate, at this time, to call the attention to the necessity for the care and preservation of the birds of our fields and forests:

NOW, THEREFORE, I, JOHN WALTER SMITH, Governor of the State of Maryland, do hereby designate Friday, the 11th day of April, 1902, as "Arbor and Highway Day," and I do recommend that the day be devoted by the people of this State to the planting of trees, and I especially recommend to parents and teachers in our schools that they encourage their children, or those under their influence, to plant and transplant at least one forest shade tree on that day by the side of a public road or about their school house, and that they be urged to study the habits and needs of our birds and their young with a view to their preservation and increase.

It is hoped by the observation of this custom to counteract the evil effects resulting from the rapid destruction of forests and birds in our State, and to maintain a due proportion of forest land, which is essential to the comfort, health and convenience of every country.

THE GREAT SEAL OF MARYLAND.

Given under my hand and the Great Seal of Maryland.

Done at the City of Annapolis, on the 18th day of March, in the year of our Lord nineteen hundred and two.

By the Governor:

WILFRED BATEMAN, Secretary of State.

The following was the Arbor Day program at the Maryland State Normal School:

> "Let every man, whose soul is not a desert, plant trees; and that not alone for himself—within the bounds of his own demesne, but in the streets, and along the rural highways. Thus he will not only lend grace and beauty to the neighborhood in which he lives, but earn, honestly and well, the thanks of his fellow men."—A. J. Downing.

SELECTIONS FROM THE BIBLE REGARDING TREES.

RESPONSIVE READING.

Gen. 1: 11, 12. And God said, Let the earth bring forth grass the herb yielding seed, and the fruit tree yielding fruit after his kind, whose seed is in itself: and it was so.

And the earth brought forth grass, and herb yielding seed after his kind, and the tree yielding fruit, whose seed was in itself, after his kind: and God saw that it was good.

Levit. 23: 39, 40. When ye have gathered in the fruit of the land, ye shall keep a feast unto the Lord seven days: on the first day shall be a sabbath, and on the eighth day shall be a sabbath.

And ye shall take you on the first day the boughs of goodly trees, branches of palm trees, and the boughs of thick trees, and willows of the brook; and ye shall rejoice before the Lord your God seven days.

Deut. 20: 19. When thou shalt besiege a city a long time, in making war against it to take it, thou shalt not destroy the trees thereof by forcing an axe against them, for thou mayest eat of them, and thou shalt not cut them down; (for the tree of the field is man's life) to employ them in the siege.

1 Kings, 4: 29, 33. And God gave Solomon wisdom and understanding exceeding much.

And he spake of trees, from the cedar tree that is in Lebanon, even unto the hyssop that springeth out of the wall.

1 Kings, 9: 10, 11. And it came to pass at the end of twenty years, when Solomon had built the two houses, the house of the Lord and the king's house, (now Hiram the king of Tyre had furnished Solomon with cedar trees and fir trees, and with gold according to all his desire) that then king Solomon gave Hiram twenty cities in the land of Galilee.

1 Kings, 10: 11, 12. And the navy also of Hiram that brought gold from Ophir, brought in from Ophir great plenty of almug trees, and precious stones.

And the king made of the almug trees pillars for the house of the Lord, and for the king's house, harps also, and psalteries for singers.

Job 14: 7, 8, 9. There is hope of a tree if it be cut down, that it will sprout again, and that the tender branch thereof will not cease.

Though the root thereof wax old in the earth, and the stock thereof die in the ground; yet through the scent of water it will bud, and bring forth boughs like a plant.

Ps. 96: 12. Let the field be joyful, and all that is therein: then shall all the trees of the wood rejoice before the Lord.

Ps. 104: 16, 17. The trees of the Lord are full of sap; the cedars of Lebanon, which he hath planted; where the birds make their nests; as for the stork, the fir trees are her house.

Eccle. 2: 5, 6. I made me gardens and orchards, and I planted trees in them of all kind of fruits.

I made me pools of water, to water therewith the wood that bringeth forth trees.

Is. 55: 12, 14. For ye shall go out with joy, and be led forth with peace; the mountains and the hills shall break forth before you into singing, and all the trees of the field shall clap their hands.

Instead of the thorn shall come up the fir tree and instead of the brier shall come up the myrtle tree.

Prov. 3: 13, 18. Happy is the man that findeth wisdom, and the man that getteth understanding. She is a tree of life to them that lay hold upon her.

Prov. 15: 4. A wholesome tongue is a tree of life.

Matt. 7: 16-20. Do men gather grapes of thorns, or figs of thistles?

Even so every good tree bringeth forth good fruit; but a corrupt tree bringeth forth evil fruit. A good tree cannot bring forth evil fruit neither can a corrupt tree bring forth good fruit.

Every tree that bringeth not forth good fruit is hewn down and cast into the fire. Wherefore by their fruits ye shall know them.

John 15: 5, 8. I am the vine, ye are the branches: He that abideth in me and I in him, the same bringeth forth much fruit: for without me ye can do nothing.

Herein is my Father glorified, that ye bear much fruit; so shall ye be my disciples.

Matt. 6: 25, 29. Is not the life more than meat, and the body than raiment? Behold the fowls of the air: for they sow not, neither do they reap, nor gather into barns; yet your heavenly Father feedeth them.

Consider the lilies of the fields, how they grow, they toil not, neither do they spin: And yet I say unto you, that even Solomon in all his glory was not arrayed like one of these.

Luke 12: 28. If then God so clothe the grass, which is to-day in the field, and to-morrow is cast into the oven, how much more will he clothe you, O ye of little faith.

Rev. 2: 7. To him that overcometh will I give to eat of the tree of life, which is in the midst of the paradise of God.

Rev. 22: 14. Blessed are they that do his commandments, that they may have right to the tree of life, and may enter in through the gates into the city.

Minutes of the Association of School Commissioners of Maryland, Session of 1902.

STATE NORMAL SCHOOL, Thursday, December 4, 1902.

The annual meeting of the Association of School Commissioners of Maryland met in the State Normal School building today.

Mr. George Biddle, President, called the meeting to order at 11 o'clock A. M. After calling the attention of the members to the importance of the questions that would be before the association for discussion, stating that the deliberation of these questions would have its influence upon the interests of the public schools of the State, therefore calm and intelligent consideration should be given to them, requested the Secretary to call the roll of the members; those who responded to the call were A. C. Willison, of Allegany; F. Eugene Wathen, of Anne Arundel; Albert S. Cook, of Baltimore; J. B. Bunting, of Calvert; Thos. W. Jones, Henry C. Fisher, W. S. Crouse, of Caroline; S. Simpson, of Carroll; Geo. O. Garey, George Biddle, of Cecil; W. Grason Smith, James N. Sherman, W. P. Beckwith, of Dorchester; Samuel Dutrow, Ephraim Boblitz, of Frederick; C. E. Ellethorp, E. A. Browning, of Garrett; M. L. Jarrett, John D. Worthington, Chas. T. Wright, of Harford; W. C. Phillips, of Howard; S. R. White, of Montgomery; W. H. B. Blandford, J. S. Sasscer, Chas. H. Stanley, Frederick Sasscer, of Prince George's; A. E. Sudler, W. S. Bittle, L. L. Beatty, of Queen Anne's; T. H. Bock, John S. Sudler, W. H. Dashiell, of Somerset; J. F. Dukes, J. H. Miles, G. W. Joy, of St. Mary's; M. B. Nichols, R. A. Dodson, H. S. Mathews, Alexander Chaplain, of Talbot; F. W. Mish, John P. Fockler, R. L. Hiberger, of Washington; C. E. Williams, H. Crawford Bounds, of Wicomico; E. W. McMaster, of Worcester, and John R. Benton, of Queen Anne's.

Prof. E. B. Prettyman, with appropriate remarks, alluded to the death of Mr. Joseph M. Cushing, a member of this association, also a member of the State Board of Education.

On motion of Mr. Mish, a committee was appointed to draft suitable resolutions on the death of Mr. Joseph M. Cushing. The President appointed Messrs. F. W. Mish, E. B. Prettyman and A. E. Sudler the committee, and instructed them to report at the next meeting of the association.

Prof. E. B. Prettyman made a summary report of the condition of the Public Schools of the State and of Baltimore city.

Rev. S. Simpson, a member of the legislative committee, spoke of the illness of Dr. M. B. Stephens, chairman of the legislative committee, and offered the following resolutions:

"Resolved, That the members of this association have learned with deep sorrow of the illness of our Honorable State Superintendent of Education, Dr. M. B. Stephens; that we are pleased to hear of his convalescence; that we express our sincere sympathy for him in his affliction; that we earnestly hope that he may be speedily restored to perfect health.

"Resolved, That the secretary send a copy of these resolutions to our worthy State Superintendent."

Mr. Simpson, in the absence of the chairman, made a formal report of the committee on legistation, which was accepted by the association.

Dr. E. B. Prettyman offered the following resolutions, which were adopted:

"Resolved, That this association desires to express its gratification at the passage of the Act of the General Assembly of 1902, chapter 196, providing for a 'Teachers' Retired List.'

"Resolved, That to meet the requirements of said law, the legislative committee of this association is hereby requested to seek such increase of the annual appropriation as will provide a pension for all teachers whose names shall be placed upon the 'Teachers' Retired List.'"

The regular order of the day was then taken up. The first subject was a paper on the "Progress of Consolidation in Rural Schools of Maryland," by G. H. Rice, of Catonsville. Mr. Rice being absent, the question was discussed by the association. The importance of the subject called forth responses from a large majority of those present; the consensus of opinion was that the growing interest in public education, the better facilities for better education, the securing better teachers, better methods and higher standard, the greatest benefit from the least outlay, demand the consolidation of rural schools. Prof. E. B. Prettyman offered resolutions commending the consolidation of rural schools, and expressing the desire that the next Legislature take favorable action, giving authority to the County School Boards to carry out the plan of consolidation if they thought best. The resolutions were referred to the Committee on Resolutions.

Mr. Joseph Packard not being present, the subject of "The Employment of Children Under Twelve Years of Age," was postponed until the next session of the association. The association then adjourned to meet at 10 o'clock A. M., to-morrow, (Friday).

State Normal School, Friday, December 5, 1902.

The Association of School Commissioners was called to order by the President at 10 o'clock A. M.

Mr. F. W. Mish, chairman of the committee on the death of Mr. Joseph M. Cushing, offered the following resolutions:

WHEREAS, It has pleased Almighty God in his infinite wisdom to take from us Joseph M. Cushing, one of the members of the State Board of Education, a member of this association of School Commissioners of the State of Maryland, a personal and intimate friend of a majority of those present, a man who has faithfully and conscientiously served the people of his native State for many years in all movements of an educational character; therefore be it

Resolved by this association of School Commissioners of Maryland, in convention assembled, That in the death of Joseph M. Cushing, the cause of education has suffered a great shock, the State of Maryland has lost one of its most respected and public spirited citizens, and an official who was never wont to fail in any of the very responsible positions which he filled so long and well. The loss of every good and loyal citizen is a loss to the State, but the loss of Joseph M. Cushing is a severe loss not only in the general sense, but is accentuated in this case, owing to his unfaltering devotion to the cause of education in Maryland; his active service in the different Boards of which he was a member, and his wise and helpful counsel in the many meetings of the educators of this State.

Be it further resolved, That these resolutions be entered upon the minutes of this convention; that a copy be sent to his immediate and sorrowing relatives.

FRANK W. MISH.
A. E. SUDLER,
E. B. PRETTYMAN.

On motion of Mr. Worthington, a resolution was passed requesting the State Board of Education to issue in circular form to the different County Boards, at regular intervals of not more than twelve months, such information as pertains to their administration of public school affairs.

Rev. S. Simpson, chairman of the Special Committee on Resolutions, made the following report:

Mr. President and Members of the State Association of Commissioners and Examiners:

Your Committee on Resolutions beg leave to submit the following report:

Resolved, That inasmuch as the education of the whole people is of the utmost importance to the State, it is the sense of this Association that School Commissioners, Examiners and Teachers should take a deep interest in whatever tends to increase general intelligence, and should strive to get a larger number of school officials to attend all associations and conventions held in the interest of public education.

Resolved, That the sincere thanks of this Association are hereby tendered to the members of the General Assembly of Maryland for the courtesy and favorable attention given to the legislative committee. We appreciate the fact that our legislators are ready to co-operate in the advancement of public education.

Resolved, That we recognize the intelligent and persevering efforts of our State Superintendent, Mr. M. Bates Stephens, to bring Maryland to the front in all matters of educational progress.

Resolved, That inasmuch as it has been demonstrated by actual experience in several States that the consolidation of rural schools has greatly increased the attendance, has resulted in greater efficiency in public school work, and has rather diminished than increased the cost of public education, it is the sense of this Association that the consolidation of the rural schools of this State is the most important question before this body.

Resolved, That this Association is emphatically in favor of such consolidation.

Resolved, That our legislative committee is hereby requested to ask of the next General Assembly such legislation as may be needed to accomplish the consolidation of rural schools.

Resolved, That the school officers of the State be requested to discuss this question at Teachers' Institutes and through the press of the State.

Resolved, That the importance and magnitude of the work imposed upon public school teachers are of such vital interest to the welfare of the State, it is the sense of this Association that the General Assembly should increase the State school tax to 15 cents on the $100 and fix by law an annual minimum salary to be paid to the teachers, which would be a just compensation for their faithful services.

Resolved, That the School Boards of the several counties in Maryland and of Baltimore city be requested to ask the members of the next General Assembly to enact such legislation as may be deemed necessary to carry the above resolution into effect.

Resolved, That for his courteous attention, the thanks of this Association are hereby tendered to Dr. E. B. Prettyman, whose thoughtful care has added much to the pleasure and success of this meeting.

Resolved, That our thanks are hereby tendered to the Joseph Dixon Crucible Company, for courtesies extended to the members of this Association.

S. Simpson,
A. E. Sudler,
Wm. S. Crouse.

On motion, the President appointed Messrs. Jno. D. Worthington, Samuel Dutrow and Eugene F. Wathen a committee on nominations for officers of the association for the ensuing two years.

Owing to the absence of Messrs. Jos. Packard and M. B. Stephens, who were to prepare papers on the "The Employment of Children Under Twelve Years of Age," and "Raising the State Tax to Fifteen Cents on the $100, and Fix the Minimum Salaries of Teachers by Law," respectively, the discussion of the subjects was postponed.

Mr. Ephraim L. Boblitz read a paper on the "Renewal of Teacher's Certificates After Five Years Without Requiring the Teacher to Pass a Professional Examination Upon the Grades Which he Has Taught." The subject was then discussed by the association.

Prof. E. B. Prettyman invited the members of the association to inspect the State Normal School and the Manual Training Department, after which he invited them on behalf of the State Board of Education to luncheon.

The committee on Nominations made the following report:

"We recommend the following names for officers of this association: Mr. L. L. Beatty, of Queen Anne's county, as President; Messrs. F. W. Mish, of Washington county, and Chas. H. Stanley, of Prince George's county, as Vice-Presidents; Mr. W. S. Crouse, of Caroline county, as Secretary; Mr. Ephraim L. Boblitz, of Frederick county, as Treasurer; Messrs. E. B. Prettyman, M. B. Stephens and Albert S. Cook, as Executive Committee; Rev. S. Simpson, Frederick Sasscer, and Geo. W. Joy, as Committee on Resolutions.

The report of the committee was adopted by the association.

The Association adjourned.

A copy of the following address of Hon. Clayton Purnell, delivered at the Annual Commencement of the Maryland State Normal School, May 29, 1902, was requested for publication in the State School Report, by the State Board of Education:

Address of Hon. Clayton Purnell, Member of the State Board of Education.

Ladies and Gentlemen:

In a country like our own, where false standards of education may lead to graver evils, and true ones to greater blessings than in any other, there can, it seems to me, be no question so vitally important to the whole people as their system of education.

There is no government in which the power of the individual citizen is so great, and none in which the duties and responsibilities of citizenship are so heavy, for each may be said to hold in the hollow of his hand the instrument with which he may, by possibility, preserve or destroy it.

When we reflect that a single ballot, cast by the humblest voter in the smallest State, may determine the choice of the chief executive officer of this great republic, and thus shape the policies, and, it may be, fix the destiny of the whole people for centuries to come, we are able to appreciate the power of the individual.

It is the mission of our schools, acting in conjunction with our homes, to prepare the rising generation for the intelligent and faithful discharge of these duties.

If they fail in that mission our boasted civilization must inevitably perish as others that have preceded it; if they well and faithfully discharge the trust committed to them, nothing can stay the tide of our progress onward and upward to heights never before reached in the history of man.

If the true end of all our education be, as I conceive it to be, the preparation for right and useful living under the government which fosters it, I know of no subject so worthy of our thoughtful care, or meriting so much our earnest solicitude, as the schools to which we look for the accomplishment of all we hope to attain through our system of popular education.

"The most profoundly important work which falls to the American citizen," says President Hadley, "is his work of guiding the destinies of his country. It is at once his greatest privilege and his heaviest duty. If we train the members of the rising generation to do this work well, all other things can be trusted to take care of themselves. If we do not train them to do this work, no amount of education in other lines will make up for the deficiency. The founders of our nation saw that free men must have the knowledge necessary to enable them to use that freedom to the public advantage. The American public school system owes its origin to this."

The noble conception of an universal education, extending to all classes of society, and embracing every faculty of the individual necessary to the complete and harmonious unfolding of his whole being, connot be found in any ancient system of education. It is distinctly a modern idea. There was no place for it in any of the older systems.

To trace the development of this conception is to write the whole history of all modern, social and political progress. In strict accordance with natural laws it was evolved out of other systems that had gone before. Dr. Draper, in his "History of the Intellectual Development of Europe," emphasizes the thought that social advancement is as much controlled by natural law as physical growth. The life of the individual, mental and physical, is a miniature of the life of the race; nothing is fortuitous; all is definitely governed by natural law. Nations like individuals have passed, and are still continuing to pass through successive periods of infancy, childhood, youth, maturity and onward into decrepitude.

If this be true, educational advancement has followed the same general law, for it does not seem possible to conceive of social advancement apart from educational progress. All education is progress, and all progress education.

Since successive systems of education could not in the nature of things be independent of the social conditions with which they co-existed, we conclude that the particular scheme was determined by the needs of its time and place. What was deemed good at one time and in one place might, of course, be wholly unsuited to the requirements of other times and places.

If, as held by Montesquieu in "The Spirit of Laws," there must be a "ruling principle" in every form of government, all education under that government was, or should have been, conducted in accordance with that principle. If the ruling principle of one government be fear; of another, honor; or still another, virtue, as the author contends, that system of education indispensable to the very existence of one might be utterly subversive of all governmental functions in the other.

The system of training necessary to make a good Chinaman cannot be relied upon to develop an ideal American.

If, then, we are to believe that there were in the mental and physical advancement of the human race these successive periods of infancy, childhood and youth, have we not reason to hope that we are now approaching our period of maturity in that system of universal education of which we are expecting so much? If there was, as suggested by Dr. Fiske of all human development, a period of "prolonged infancy" in educational advancement, may we not believe that, in the fulness of time, we shall attain the wisdom and stature of complete manhood?

In educational, as in all other progress, there was "first the blade, then the ear; after that the full corn in the ear."

The mission of our age is to carry on to perfection the work so well begun. There must be no backward step. We should hold fast to that which we know to be good, regardless of its origin, and reject as we go that which experience and increase of knowledge have shown to be bad, no matter whence it came.

To declare that all previous ideals of education fall short of our own conceptions of right training is to assert what must be clear to the most casual observer; it is no more than the bald statement that the ideals and standards of former times are not those of the twentieth century.

"The thoughts of men have widened with the process of the suns," and all culture must be broadened and deepened to suit the changed conditions—social and political.

Within modern times mighty forces, hitherto unknown or disregarded, have brought us into relations with a new order of things.

When, as the result of these forces, man, the individual, was evolved, and power wrenched from the hands of those who had wielded it for centuries, new hopes, new ideals were born; new standards set up, and true progress had its real beginning.

The education designed for the individual destined to be absorbed into the despotism of the State, or to become a part of a mere machine, was not suited to the needs of one who was to be fitted for a place in the governing body.

Other training must be given to freemen.

Conditions were wholly changed. Individual man, hitherto a mere cipher in the great account of humanity, began to assert himself, and the necessity of preparing the young for the duties of the new life before them dawned upon the world.

It was in such a soil as this that the seeds of our new ideas of education were planted.

This great modern idea of an universal education was impossible of accomplishment except by the State. No substantial progress was made until this was fully realized; but the humble efforts of the early colonists have, in our own times, borne abundant fruit.

"A parent who sends his son into the world uneducated, and without skill in any art or science, does a great injury to mankind as well as to his own family, for he defrauds the community of a useful citizen, and bequeaths to it a nuisance." These words of our great Chancellor took deep root in the American heart, and States assumed the control of that which parents were in some cases unable, and in others unwilling to undertake. So solicitous were the States as to their schools that they made provision for them in their constitutions.

Article VIII of the Constitution of Maryland guarantees to the people "a thorough and efficient system of Free Public Schools," and provides for their support by taxation. Under existing laws Maryland devotes eighty per centum of her whole State tax to educational purposes, distributing this money to the city and the counties—they in their turn annually making large levies to supply deficiencies. In addition to this the Legislature at each session makes liberal appropriations to the various educational institutions of the State.

But money alone can never make good schools. There can be no "thorough and efficient" system of education without good teachers to do the work.

The old notion seemed to be that teachers, like poets, are born, not made; but we have now learned to believe that they are first born, and afterwards very carefully made. The idea that the man who had first failed at everything else should try teaching school for a living has become less popular than it once seemed to be.

Modern teaching is a profession, and it has been pretty generally recognized that teachers, like those in other professions, must have training in order to fit them for their work.

In this intensely practical age it is the man or woman who can do something, it matters little what that something is, and do it better than any competitor can, that is always in demand and always certain of success.

This, of course, means training for the work to be done, and ample practice in the doing of it.

To meet this need our own State, following the example of others, established a State Normal School "for the instruction and practice of teachers in the science of education, the art of teaching, and the mode of governing schools." Students of this institution are apportioned by the State Board of Education among the several counties and the City of Baltimore in proportion to "their respective representation in the General Assembly of the State."

The standard of admission is fixed by law. Students on entering must have the scholastic qualifications required by Section 63 of Article LXXVII of the Code of Public General Laws regulating the examination of teachers desiring to qualify themselves for positions in the public schools. Among these requirements is a reasonable proficiency in spelling, reading, writing, arithmetic, geography, history and English grammar, and "such other branches as may be required by the State Board of Education."

The students selected by School Commissioners must procure the certificate of the County or City Examiner in testimony of their scholastic proficiency; and they are required to file a declaration in writing of their intention to engage in the profession of teaching in the State of Maryland.

There were at first conflicting views as to the scope of the instruction to be given in such institutions; some held that the work should be almost if not exclusively professional; others that it should be largely academic. The consensus of opinion among those most entitled to speak with authority seems, at this time, however, to favor a judicious admixture of professional and scholastic work extending through the whole course.

The function of the Normal School is to train teachers for work in the elementary and grammar schools. That course of study, therefore, which will best fit teachers for this work is the right one, and that which fails in any important respect to prepare them for such work is, to that extent, the wrong one.

Our elementary and grammar schools are the schools of the people. It is here that the most important and difficult work is to be done. It is in these schools, if they are to have it at all, that the great majority of our children are to receive such training and culture as they are destined to get. Some go upward, it is true, to the high school, the academy, the college, and onward to the university, but the fact remains that most of them do not go on, and may not hope for any higher culture than that offered by our elementary schools. What they obtain there, supplemented by such home training as they chance to receive, is all they are to expect to fit them for their places in the busy world beyond. From these schools they go forth to exercise, according to standards thus formed, the rights, privileges and duties incident to their citizenship.

That the teachers selected to conduct these lower schools should possess character, skill and ability of the highest order is too clear for discussion; the only question is where to obtain a permanent supply of teachers for this work.

To my mind there is but one answer to the question.

We must look to our normal schools to supply such teachers; there is no other source to which we can look, and it is, therefore, of the highest importance that such institutions should make no mistake in the kind of training given to those whom they are sending out to do this work.

On this subject Dr. William T. Harris, the United States Commissioner of Education, in a very able discussion of the question, has recently said: "The normal schools of this country, since the first one opened by Cyrus Pierce, have followed substantially the same tradition and made the chief part of their course of study a review of elementary branches—reading, writing, arithmetic, geography, history and grammar."

After stating the objection sometimes made to this review work in the elementary branches, and the contention that it would be found unnecessary if pupils, before their admission to the normal school, had completed the ordinary high school course, Dr. Harris proceeds:

"But this is not borne out by experience. The teacher who is to teach these elementary branches after graduation finds no work of preparation in the normal school half so valuable as this review of those branches in the light of more advanced studies. No work that is done in the secondary school—that is to say, the high school and the academy—is an equivalent for the normal work done on the same studies. What is learned for the first time in the elementary or the secondary school is learned as a step to what lies beyond. Thus arithmetic is a step toward algebra, and geography a step toward the organic sciences such as biology and ethnology. When the pupil has climbed to the studies beyond, he drops the elementary steps out of sight. Of course it follows that, in the high school or in the college, those lower branches are not reviewed in the light of the higher branches—arithmetic is not studied anew in the light of algebra and geometry; descriptive geography is not reviewed in the light of physical geography, botany, zoology and geology; but the teacher needs precisely this re-examination of all his elementary branches in their relation to the higher studies that furnish them their rules and laws." This work of review, successfully practiced by our normal schools for sixty years has, Dr. Harris thinks, induced young men and women preparing for the work of teaching, to form the habit of looking at the lower, in the light of the higher branches from which they derive their principles. This he calls the method of construction. It takes up a branch of study and views it constructively, and to study arithmetic in the light of algebra and geometry is, says Dr. Harris, "to study it constructively."

Giving emphasis to the idea that the first learning of a subject is largely a work of memory, and that any real knowledge of it must lie beyond the mere act of memorizing, he holds that the student can hope to obtain what he most needs only by reflection upon the data given and with the discovery of inter-relations, and the process of derivation from higher sources.

Dr. Schaeffer, well known as the Pennsylvania Superintendent of Education, holds similar views as to the proper course for a normal school. "There are," he says, "two sides to our normal work; the one, scholarship; the other, its application to the art of teaching. A purely professional school that does no academic work is a myth; it does not exist in any profession."

We take it then, that a Normal School must have academic work extending through its whole course. A moot court in itself can never make a school of law, and a good college of medicine must have more than its clinic.

The Normal School must require its pupils to study the branches they are afterwards to teach, and study them, too, from the standpoint of the teacher and not that of the pupil.

The standard of admission to such schools should be high; the higher it is the more profitable this review work will be. It will give what never can be obtained in any other way.

The duty of the teacher is to impart knowledge and to evoke power.

Now those who are familiar with physical laws know how little of the power generated is actually utilized by the machine in doing the work it is designed to perform. The more nearly perfect mechanically the machine is the greater the percentage of force saved from going to waste; and the more power the teacher has the less energy he will waste in doing useless work, and of course the more he will be able to command for doing the right kind of work.

The Normal student has always a special object in view. He must constantly think of the method he will employ in explaining his subject to those having little or no knowledge of it. By close attention to this feature of his work at the Normal School he will, when he does begin to teach, know how to save his own energy and that of his classes from much that is useless, and, it may be, positively hurtful.

Less, perhaps, from want of knowledge than from lack of skill in using it, we may find even in Maryland today more than one Sisyphus groaning under the weight of his burden, and many a daughter of Danaus toiling at her hopeless yet unending task.

The teacher who starts out with nothing more than his theories will spoil much precious material in experiments to obtain that which he should have had when he began.

If for society the hazard is too great to permit the incompetent lawyer or physician to acquire proficiency by such a method, should we not stop and think before we put in jeopardy that which to ourselves and our children is almost as precious as life itself? It is life that we put in peril; for what is life after all beyond that which makes life worth the living?

The Normal School was designed by the State to be the training school for those to be employed as teachers in its public schools. It is, then, the head of that system of free schools guaranteed by our Constitution and regulated by our laws. We should look to it for that which we cannot reasonably hope to obtain from any other source—a constant and permanent supply of efficient teachers for our elementary schools.

But this subject has another aspect. Technical training and professional skill are good, but these alone are not enough. Our teachers should have what no purely professional school will ever give. They must have culture and scholarship—that culture which, Matthew Arnold says, must have its origin in the love of perfection; that which seeks to make the best which has been thought, and said, and done in the world, current everywhere.

"Let each become all that he was created capable of being," is its law, says Carlyle.

"What knowledge is of most worth?" is the great question propounded by Herbert Spencer, and in answering it, he says: "Science must be the verdict on every count."

"A complete and generous education," says Milton, "is that which fits a man to perform justly, skillfully and magnani-mously all the offices, both private and public, of peace and war."

"What is a liberal education?" asks Huxley, and for reply he says:

"A liberal education is an artificial education which has not only prepared a man to escape the disobedience of natural laws, but has trained him to appreciate and seize upon the rewards which nature scatters with as free a hand as her penalties. That man, I think, has had a liberal education who has been so trained in youth that his body is a ready servant of his will, and does with ease and pleasure all the work that, as a mechanism, it is capable of; whose intellect is a clear, cold, logic engine, with all its parts of equal strength and in smooth working order; ready, like a steam engine, to be turned to any kind of work and spin the gossamers as well as forge the anchors of the mind; whose mind is stored with knowledge of the great and fundamental truths of nature and of the laws of her operations; one who, no stunted ascetic, is full of life and fire, but whose passions are trained to come to heel by a vigorous will, the servant of a tender conscience; who has learned to love all beauty, whether of nature or of art, to hate all vileness, and to respect others as himself."

"May we with reason hope to reach such ideals?" some will inquire.

There can be but one answer: Hold them as ideals, and by continued effort, approach them as nearly as you can.

In educational mountain-climbing there is no highest peak; for, ascend as we may, other summits, loftier still than any we have scaled, will loom up beyond.

As a result most natural of the growing demand for teachers of broader culture and greater professional skill, a practical question has arisen which cannot be ignored. It lies, as I believe, at the very root of all other questions vitally affecting our scheme of popular education.

The State which pays its teachers the wages of the journeyman can never hope to command the skill of the master-workman.

The simple law of economics needs no elucidation.

In Maryland, as shown by the State Report for 1901, there are 5,036 teachers, 1,676 in Baltimore, and 3,360 in the counties. Their average annual income is as follows: Baltimore City, $585.64; the counties, $277.45; the entire State, $431.09. This means a regular monthly income of $49 in the city and $23 in the counties, with a maximum of $39 for Baltimore county and a vanishing minimum of a little less than $13 in Garrett.

What magnificent talents such princely figures should command! They are more eloquent than mere words can ever be, and I give them here that you may see the situation as it exists today.

Their mute appeal must be answered

If States will insist, as all agree they should insist, upon higher standards for teachers, they must make a juster return for what they receive, or fail in their efforts to obtain that for which they seek.

This condition is beginning to be recognized, and, as I am informed, New York City has led the way by fixing a minimum salary of $600 per annum. The average throughout the country is about half as much, and in the Maryland counties much less than half.

The conclusion is obvious: Maryland must meet these conditions or fail of her hopes. To expect any other results is to look for that which the rational mind will not permit itself to hope for.

To you, young ladies and gentlemen, just ready to enter upon the noble work you have chosen, let me say in parting: The State needs your services, and the time is not distant when your work will be valued at its true worth; the teacher of the future must posses liberal scholarship, wide culture and high professional skill; the times demand these things, and the accomplishments which you are now to carry with you to every part of her territory must prove a force for good in whatever field you employ them.

This is the end of your school life; it is only the beginning of your usefulness. Relax not your efforts for further improvement; still strive for culture, as broad as you can make it, and impart it to others under your guidance; accumulate knowledge and give of it freely to all looking to you for assistance; develop power in yourselves, and use it wisely in evoking power in others subject to your control; build character in those you shall teach, and inspire them with a deep love for our institutions, coupled with a sense of trusteeship in all that pertains to the welfare of our government; teach them the fundamental principles of our constitution and the spirit of our laws, that they may know and have the courage to defend their own, and learn to respect the rights of others under those laws; cultivate in their hearts a love of all that is right, and a hatred for all that is wrong, yet remember always that one worthy to be heard has said:

"You may develop the intellectual side of people as far as you like, and you may confer upon them all the skill that training and instruction can give; but if there is not, under all that outside form and superficial polish, the firm fiber of healthy manhood and earnest desire to do well, your labor is absolutely in vain."

Course of Instruction in the Maryland State Normal School.

The course of instruction extends through three years. Candidates for admission may enter the second year (Middle) class, on passing an examination on the studies of the first (Junior) year, and the third year (Senior) class on passing an examination on the studies of the second (Middle) year.

Observation of actual teaching in both Normal and Model Schools, with notes and written reports thereon, is required of every class.

Singing and Drawing are taught in every term except the last, also Sewing (to women) and the Use of Woodworking Tools (to men).

Latin has been made an elective study, and students who upon entrance elect to take Latin must continue its study during the entire course.

General Plan of the Courses.

Science and the Art of Teaching.

(a) Psychology: The elements of Psychology by Comparé is the text-book used, and class lectures are given suggesting the application of the principles therein stated in actual teaching. The principal standard writers upon the subject have been consulted, and attention is called to an excellent collection of the best authors upon the subject in the school library.

(b) Pedagogy: Lessons in Pedagogy extend through the three years and are arranged thus:

Junior Year. Compayre's History of Pedagogy is read and its several subjects discussed. The life-period of a nation, its civilization, progress, laws, customs, are compared with its means and limitations in educating its people and the value attached by it to education. Inspiration is gained through studying the life of the earnest and successful teacher, while a knowledge of the principles underlying his teaching is sought.

Middle Year: Theory and practice are combined in lessons for primary classes; principles underlying all true teaching are emphasized; means of securing the attention of the pupils and the power to keep them busy are dwelt upon; special attention to the dispositions, the habits of children that come under the student's own observation is advised; the making of schedules in conformity with the requirements of the several grades is practiced.

Senior Year: Instruction in this year embraces a knowledge of the laws governing physical, moral and mental growth; effect of environment; discipline; practice lessons in elementary studies; criticisms upon the same; the encouragement of individual method rather than imitation; the art of questioning so as to stimulate and to secure the end sought for; aesthetics in the school room.

In all recitations the student is required to obtain not only a thorough knowledge of the subject matter for herself, but how to teach that subject to another, adapting her presentation to the special requirements of the individual mind.

Students of all classes are required each year to observe in the Model School where they see illustrated principles and methods taught them in the Normal department. They are taught to trace here effect back to cause, to note the processes of the development of the subject in the minds of the several children, and to form their own laws for the same; to study closely the relationship existing between pupil and teacher, the influence of the teacher upon the mind and habits of the pupil, and the cause of this influence. The students report upon their observations, inferences, etc., in a conference held weekly, conducted by the teacher in charge of this department.

(d) School Law: The text of the School Laws of the State, and of the By-Laws, Rules and Regulations of the Public Schools of the State are studied, and their application in Baltimore City and in the Counties.

History and Civics.

(a) History: The course in history is limited to the 16th, 17th, 18th and 19th centuries in England, France, Germany, the United States and to such Spanish and Italian history as is incidental. One period daily in the Junior Year from January to May is given to this study. Students have no text-books. Teaching is done by lecture. A question box, pictures, maps and charts are used as helps. Outside work required varies from year to year, as does the method of taking up the work. Some years, students are required to copy and illustrate by maps and pictures their notes on the lectures; in others, principal events in each country are written in parallel columns, pictures and maps being arranged at the end of each century; in others, students answer in writing once a week one review question, and hand in one theme on a subject assigned, with a scrap-book containing bits of history, pictures, etc.; in still others, four themes are required, one on a subject from each century.

As to the order of taking up the history, some years events are taken contemporaneously in the four centuries; in other years, each country is considered separately. The greatest emphasis is always laid on sequence of events, great movements, the evolution from class rights to those of the individual, from feudalism to self-government.

(b) Constitution of the United States: The germs of the written constitution in history; its antecedents in England, especially the "Magna Charta" and the "Bill of Rights;" the proposal by Franklin of a union of the British Colonies in America; the adoption of the "Articles of Confederation;" the Constitutional Convention of 1797, and the ratification of the Constitution are discussed in class lectures. The text of the Constitution and of its amendments, and the application thereof in the government of the United States are then studied.

(c) Constitution of Maryland: The establishment and development of the government in Maryland is taught by class lectures, of which notes are made by the students. In the preparation of the lectures, all the standard histories of the Colony and of the State have been consulted, especially those of Dr. William Hand Browne, Col. J. Thomas Scharf; the publications of the Maryland Historical Society and of the Johns Hopkins University. A careful study has also been made of original documents, viz:—The instructions of Cecilius Calvert to Leonard Calvert previous to the sailing of "The Ark" and "The Dove;" the Charter of Maryland; each of the Constitutions of the State, and the Amendments adopted.

The text of the present Constitution and its application in the government of the State is then studied.

Work in English.

(a) English and Composition: English has two periods a week in the first half of the Junior Year. Usually the lessons are not assigned, but the students are drilled in the use of such words as are commonly used incorrectly. This is done by original sentences, given by pupils, containing the word or by mimeographed sentences with blanks to be filled.

Students are required to give oral descriptions of persons, places, etc., and to reproduce stories. Spelling lessons, including the analysis of words, the writing of diacritical marks and the sounds of letters, are given.

The work in English Composition consists of: (1) Written and Oral Observations. (2) Daily themes—through which are taught Punctuation, Capitalization, Words, Sentences, Paragraphs. (3) Fortnightly themes—descriptive, narrative, etc. (4) Written reviews of such books as Ramona, The Last of the Mohicans, The House of Seven Gables, My Lady Rotha, When Nighthood was in Flower, To Have and to Hold, etc. (5) Letter writing: Business Letters. Social Notes. Friendly Letters.

(b) English Grammar: The work during the Junior year consists of a thorough study of the different parts of speech, syntax, analysis, parsing.

During the Middle year, the work includes a review of the study of the inflexions; more difficult syntax or construction; and more advanced analysis and parsing.

Pupils receive their instruction in the above courses mainly from the teacher.

Lockwood's "Lessons in English" is put into the hands of every pupil, and the texts of Meiklejohn, Maxwell, etc., are used for reference.

In the Senior year, grammar includes the analysis of difficult constructions, examples of case, mood, and tense forms, the grammatical and historical relation of words to one another, the changed meaning of words, their derivation, synonyms, correction of false syntax, paragraphs, punctuation, versification, figures of speech, composition, distinctness of style. As facility of expression is best acquired through expression, much practice in composition is given not only in this but in other studies.

In English, Meiklejohn's English Language is closely adhered to as the text-book. Collateral matter is also taken from Fowler's Large Grammar, Lounsbury's English Language, Whitney's Language and the Study of Language, and Morris's English Accidence.

(c) History of the English Language: Language in general is touched upon, as well as the family of languages, and the group to which English belongs. The history of our language is carefully and fully traced from its dialectic form in the lowlands of Germany to its present composite condition.

(d) Literature: (Junior Year). American Literature. (1) The following selections from American Authors are read in class:—Irving's "Sketch Book," Hawthorne's "Tales of the White Hills," Longfellow's "Evangeline," "The Courtship of Miles Standish," and some of his shorter poems, Lowell's "The Vision of Sir Launfal" and Bryants's "Thanatopsis."

The following suggests the character of the home reading done during the year: Hawthorne's "The House of the Seven Gables," "Tanglewood Tales" and "Wonder Book," Irving's "Tales of a Traveller" or "Alhambra," Cooper's "Last of the Mohicans," Longfellow's "Hiawatha" and Whittier's "Snowbound."

(2) Study based on the reading,—Figures of speech, making of outlines, use and kinds of words, sentences and paragraphs, comparison of prose and poetry, study of versification —verse, stanza, meter, foot, rhyme, rhythm, etc., word pictures, inductive study of the characteristics of the author with proofs by quotations from the text.

(3) Suggestive topics assigned for oral recitations and for essays.

(4) Quotations memorized from all selections read in class, and illustrated note books carefully prepared.

(5) Life of every author and critical library references studied after the careful study of the text.

(6) History of American Literature,—Outline of history in three periods with sub-divisions and chief writers memorized. Lectures on amount and kinds of writing at different periods with causes, tendencies and comparison of writers. Use of class charts and outlines.

(7) Celebration of birthdays of American authors. Large calendar kept with picture of author placed on the date of his birthday; talks and quotations prepared voluntarily by pupils.

(Middle year). English Literature. (1) The following selections are read in class,—Shakespeare's "Merchant of Venice," "Julius Cæsar," Pope's "Translation of Homer's Iliad," Addison's "Sir Roger de Coverley Papers;" read at home,—Shakespeare's "Macbeth" and "As You Like It," Carlyle's "Essay on Burns," Scott's "Ivanhoe" or "Kenilworth," Eliot's "Silas Marner," and Goldsmith's "Vicar of Wakefield."

(2) Study based on reading,—Drama; plot—outlining by scenes, statement of theme, comparative importance in every act, climax, catastrophe, etc.; characters—inductive study by reference, quotations and comparisons; search questions assigned, answered and discussed. Comparison of novel and drama; outlining of essays; study of poetical forms; figures of speech, etc.

(3) Suggestive topics and essays.

(4) Quotations and note-books.

(5) Lives of authors and library references, after class study of their works.

(6) History of English Literature. Outline of history in eight periods with chief authors memorized. Study of rulers in England and chief events of history of every period and their effect on literature. Lectures and chart drills on tendencies of periods to poetry or prose with causes, comparisons of periods and writers. Various summaries and outlines. Especial attention is given to periods from the sixteenth century to the present time.

(7) Celebration of the birthdays of English authors.

(Senior Year.) English Literature. (1) Selections read in class—Milton's "Paradise Lost," (books I and II) or minor poems; read at home—Macauley's "Essays on Addison," or "Essay on Milton," Tennyson's shorter poems, Wordsworth's shorter poems.

(2) A study of outlines, figures of speech, comparisons, characteristics, quotations, note-books.

(3) Especial study of the life of Milton and the effect of seventeenth century history upon his writing and upon literature in general. Library references.

(4) History of Literature—continued review and drill on periods. Especial study of history from the beginning of literature to the sixteenth century.

(5) Pedagogical study about five weeks. Outlines of reading adapted to primary and grammar school grades given and discussed.

A List of memory selections suitable for primary and grammar grades is given.

Illustrative presentations of selections for various grades are given by the teacher, especially of the poems of Wordsworth, Tennyson and Stevenson.

Preparation by every pupil of such presentations, and practice teaching given by many.

Various practical plans especially adapted to country schools are discussed.

Mounting of pictures for the school room is required from every pupil in the form of a chart, panel or calendar.

(e) Elocution: We introduce the subject of Elocution by giving brief talks on the ultimate aim of all education; helps to character building; the relation Elocution holds to other studies; the benefits to be derived from the study of Elocution by the pupil personally and by the pupil as a teacher.

Summary of Work.

A. True Conception of Elocution.
   1. Study.
   2. Nature.
   3. Man.
   4. Fine Arts.
      (a) Qualities common to all good Art: Truth, simplicity, unity, purity, directness, suggestiveness, repose, harmony, variety.

B. Impression.
   1. Mind and soul or Psychic Training.
      (a) Development of character and cultivation of taste. Note: Of course, actual class training on these points is not possible; but we give suggestive talks.
      (b) Cultivation of those faculties of the mind by which the correct impression is received.
         Attention, concentration, imagination, logical faculty, sympathy. Note: This is where most of the work is done.

C. Expression.
   1. Physical Training.
      (a) Good air, good food, cleanliness.
      (b) Correct dress.
      (c) Physical exercise.
         I. Out-door.
         II. In-door. Practical work in the gymnasium.

2. Vocal Training.

(a) Vocal exercise. Note: The voice may be trained from two standpoints, the mechanical and artistic. In the mechanical method the proper use of the respiratory muscles and vocal organs is reached through technical exercises as suggested by the summary. In the artistic method, the voice is trained to respond to the mind and feelings

Lyrics, which the pupil can appreciate and enjoy and which express some joyous emotion as joy in nature or love of country, are best in developing tone-color. Later comes the practice of other emotions.

Correct breathing, relaxed throat, control of breath, forward placing of tone, articulation.

(b) Vocal Music under supervision of musical instructor.

(Junior Year) On entering school, each pupil is examined with regard to breathing, use of voice and expression in reading. We strive to have the pupils get a true conception of what good reading is, and also to master a few of the simple steps in expression. In examination, the pupil reads a paragraph from a newspaper and recites a narrative poem. We read in class,—Whittier's "Child Life in Prose," "Child Life in Poetry," and other poems of a similar character.

(Middle Year) The development of the pupil's power of expression was of the first consideration in the Junior Year. Now we have the difficult task of preparing the pupil to teach others. We enlarge upon the work of the first year and in addition discuss simple ways of attaining desired results with pupils. We read selections from the Longfellow Leaflets and Snow Bound. Each pupil tells a short story and recites a lyric.

(Senior Year) We review and enlarge further on the various points taken up the preceding years. We consider problems in connection with teaching reading. The class is divided into sections, and one section has the opportunity, on certain days, of spending the lesson period consulting books on special points. This has been found very helpful, as we have the beginning of a fine library of reference books on reading.

We read Shakespeare's "As You Like It" or "A Merchant of Venice."

At the beginning of the term, scenes from Shakespeare are given, from which each pupil chooses one to prepare for the end of the term.

In the Junior and Middle Classes, we have a few simple talks on Art, using as examples, the copies of famous pictures and statues found in our own school building. The pupils illustrate their own art notes with Perry pictures.

In the Senior Class we talk of the Artists of Barbizon and see their original work at the Walter's Art Gallery.

Mathematics.

(a) Arithmetic: Arithmetic in the Junior Year from September to December inclusive, one period daily, includes percentage, commission, and brokerage, gain and loss, simple interest and the metric system, with analysis of problems. Students have Appleton's Numbers Applied as a reference book, but the actual work is dictated. Examples are written and solved on the board by students who then explain them to the class. Especial attention is called to accuracy in statements made on the board, and also to neatness of work and written explanations. One day in each week the work is handed in on paper, and the lesson period is occupied in having pupils at the board solve examples not previously given, in order to get as much individual work and work done under the eye of the teacher as possible. A note book is kept in which typical examples and notes are written for reference. In taking up new subjects, the inductive method is used and a rule formulated from examples worked. Subjects are grouped so as to make as far as possible a natural progression. This work is continued in the Middle Year from January to May. In both years the work is practical, and constant appeal is made to reason and not to rule. Arithmetic is completed in the Middle Year.

(b) Algebra: (Junior Year) In this course, addition, subtraction, multiplication, division, factoring, highest common factor and least common multiple, fractions and simple equations are taught. Students have no text-book. The Lecture Method is used and students are required to formulate original questions. A test is given about every two weeks and these papers are corrected by the teacher and returned to students, Text-books referred to are Wentworth's, and Fisher & Schwatt's.

(Middle Year) This course comprises a careful study of simple equations, involution, evolution, theory of exponents, inequalities, radicals, imaginaries and quadratics.

Special attention is given to formulating original examples.

Text-book recommended—Fisher and Schwatt's Algebra, Wentworth's New School Algebra.

(c) Geometry. (Junior Year.) Two lessons a week are given in geometry during the Junior Year. Students have no text-book. They are required to demonstrate theorems at the board to the class, or to write them in review. As far as possible the students give all explanations, and the inductive method is used.

(Middle Year) Amount covered—Six books of Phillips and Fisher's abridged edition with many of the original exercises and problems.

In the Senior class the work is pursued more rapidly. The pupil knowing how to use a text-book is allowed one, and is required 1st, to demonstrate the proposition; 2d, to answer satisfactorily all questions asked by the teacher or class; 3d, to teach the same to the class.

It is required that the figures be large and neatly drawn, that all lettering be easily seen by every member of the class, that scientific and exact language be used, that the sequence of steps in the proof be logical, and that there be no unnecessary verbiage.

(d) Book-Keeping: The course in book-keeping is similar to, but not so extensive as that outlined by the Sadler-Rowe Company in their Commercial and Industrial Book-keeping. The lessons are not intended to produce specialists: this being the work of the Business College. The aim is rather to familiarize the pupils with the principles underlying journalizing and posting, with the necessary contents of business papers and to give them a fair amount of practice work in these subjects. Neatness, accuracy, promptness in recording, and careful attention to details are insisted upon.

Physical and Natural Science.

(a) Physiology: The course in Physiology is completed in the first half of the Junior Year. It consists of lectures, illustrated by charts, models, and drawings, and of quizzes on reading assigned. The text-book in the hands of the students is Martin's Human Body. Students must be able to draw accurately and readily different parts of the body, and to explain the changes which the food undergoes in digestion and the blood in respiration, the direction of nerve-currents, etc.

(b) Chemistry: It is the purpose of this course to call the attention of the student to the phenomena of change that is constantly occurring in the world about them and to give them the key whereby they can unlock and understand many of the processes and changes of every day life.

The course is given by lectures, illustrated by carefully performed experiments. These the pupil must carefully follow and record their observations and inferences in their note-books.

The following is a synopsis of the work of last year—Chemical and physical change; elements and compounds; mechanical mixtures; Law of Definite Proportions; atoms; molecules; symbols and formulas; chemical affinity: valence; manifestation of chemical action; aids to chemical action; chemical reaction; methods of separation.

A study of some of the common elements and their compounds,—oxygen; hydrogen; water; nitrogen; ammonia; the oxides of nitrogen; nitric acid; acids, bases and salts; the halogen acids and salts; carbon; marsh gas; olefiant gas; acetylene gas; coal and water gas; carbon mon-oxide; carbon di-oxide; sulphur; hydrogen sulphide; sulphur di-oxide; sulphuric acid; the atmosphere and its relation to life; flame; oxidation and reduction; chemical nomenclature; problems based on the Laws of Definite Proportions.

(c) Physics: The course in Physics occupies one year. Special attention is given to the construction and use of simple and inexpensive apparatus.

The class work includes the subjects of Air, Liquids, Heat, Magnetism, and Electricity. From fifty to seventy-five experiments are preformed by each student, permanent reports of each experiment being made. The objects of the experiments are to verify, not to discover laws; to develop care and skill in manipulation and accuracy of observation.

Gage's Physics forms the bases of the work.

Hammel's "Observation Blanks in Physics" is used for laboratory work.

(d) Mineralogy: A laboratory study, elective with Latin. The pupils become familiar with the characteristics of and the terms applied to minerals by handling and studying type specimens. The student determines and studies the characteristics of some thirty-five common minerals of economic importance. Their uses and the reasons why they are used are emphasized.

A study of the more useful industries connected with certain minerals, e. g., mining of coal, the manufacture of coal gas, lead pencils, salt, lime, the smelting of iron ores, etc., is carried along with the work. Austin's "Observation Blanks in Mineralogy" is the laboratory manual used by the students.

(e) Physical Geography: Text-books used,—Davis' "Physical Geography," Gilbert and Brigham's "Introduction to Physical Geography." The text is supplemented with lectures, illustrated with stereopticon, maps, globes. and sand table.

The storms of the "prevailing wasterlies." weather-maps, forecasting; the inorganic agencies now at work upon the earth, their influence upon its structure and present surface appearance; the formation of soil; a general study of the surrounding region of the State, the kinds of rocks found, their origin and mode of formation receive special attention.

Field excursions for the study of the excellent local physiographic conditions, are made as frequently as possible.

(f) Geography: This course extends through the first half of the Middle Year. The following outlines the course as taught, etc.

> (1),—Home Geography,—Taught by a series of elementary lessons given by the students under the direction of the teacher, by means of Nature, pictures, and sand-table; (2) North America—as a typical continent; (3) The United States; (4) Maryland; (5) Europe and Asia—a brief study, mainly by comparison with North America.
> (6)—Map Drawing—A small part of each lesson is given to rapid drawing of Outline Maps of the continents, showing the natural features which influence the distribution of climate, plants and animals.
> (7)—Putty and Paste Maps, made by the students.

Tarr and McMurray's "North America" and "Europe and Asia;" Frye's, Redway's and Hinman's texts on the geography of Maryland form the basis of the work for this course.

(g) Botany: Taught in part by the laboratory method; in part by the lecture method. The aim of the work is to know the plant as a complete organism, living its own life in its own way. Hence life, function and adaptation is made primary, mere structure, secondary.

The following outlines the work: Seeds and germination; the organs of the plant—roof, steam, leaves, hairs, buds; inflorescence; typical exogens and endogens; fruits; a few types of flowerless plants.

Field work for the purpose of instructing pupils how to collect, analyze, prepare and mount specimens, and to observe and study plants in their homes is done.

Each pupil is assigned a special topic for study and observation in the field, the work to be illustrated by the actual specimens observed, whenever practicable. The character of this work is indicated by such topics as these:

(1) How seeds travel. (2) How plants protect themselves. (3) Conditions requisite for germination. (4) Leaf veining. (5) Leaf shapes. (6) The history of the apple-tree branch, as told by itself, interpreted by the pupil. (7) Development of a blackberry from flower to fruit. (8) Development study of the germination of beans, corn, or peas. (9) How a pumpkin plantlet rids itself of its shell, and some one hundred other topics covering the entire field of botany.

Bailey's Botany is the basis of the work for this course.

(b) Zoology: The course in Zoology occupies sixteen weeks—three forty minute periods a week in the Senior Class—for those not taking Latin.

A study of type forms is made in the laboratory, and a note book with drawings and descriptions must be kept throughout the course. The method of study varies with the different animals. In most cases the living organisms is studied, stress being laid on its activities and relation to environment. Field work is required. The compound microscope is used throughout the course. Library references in such form studies are substituted for text-book. The Agassiz Association consists of members of the Zoology Class and meets every week after school for special work in this department.

Other Subjects.

(a) Latin: (Junior Year). Chapters I-XXIX inclusive of Tuell and Fowler's "A First Book in Latin" forms the basis of the work for this year.

Forms learned—five declensions of nouns, three declensions of adjectives, two conjugations of the indicative mood, comparison of adjectives and adverbs.

Construction learned—two uses of the nominative case, two genitive, three of the dative, two of the accusative, the vocative, and twelve of the ablative; the adjective agreement, verb agreement, and the use of prepositions.

Class work—memorizing of vocabularies, thorough drill on forms and constructions by black-board and oral recitation, almost daily written translations of English sentences in Latin in the exercise books. These sentences are corrected by the teacher, returned and rewritten. All rules of syntax violated are written in full with the corrected sentences. Tests are given every month.

(Middle Year.) Tuell and Fowler's "A first Book in Latin" is completed. Forms and constructions sufficient for the reading of Caesar are learned. The other work of this year is a continuation of the Junior Year work.

(Senior Year.) Greenough, D'ooge and Daniell's "Second Year Latin" is the text used.

The Amount read varies, it will eventually be the equivalent of three books of Caesar.

The study of constructions, especially of subjunctive infinitive, and indirect discourse is continued.

Latin Prose—averages one exercise a week—the sentences being based on the text selected from Daniell's Latin Prose and others.

Virgil,—A few advanced pupils are given extra work in translating and scanning a part of the first book of Virgil.

(b) Physicial Training:

SWEDISH SYSTEM.

A. Practical Work

Free standing exercises and apparatus work in gymnasium.

B. Theory

1. Lectures

(a) Theory of Swedish System

(b) Comparison of Swedish with other Systems.

2. Study

(a) Baron Posse's Hand Book.

Essays are prepared in the Senior Class on such subjects as Physical Training in the Country schools; Physical Training in Primary Schools; Habitual Posture of School Children; Plays, Games, etc., for Physicial Development, etc.

(c) Drawing: (1) Form Study—outline drawing from type solids and familiar objects based on type solids, clay modeling; (2) Light and Shade—drawing in charcoal from still life; (3) Composition—practice with different media (lead pencil, brush work, crayon, etc.); (4) Color study with water colors.

Consideration is also given to historic styles of architecture and ornament, plant form and its adaptation in decoration, and to outdoor sketching.

(d) Music: Elementary theory; the writing of musical exercises; drill from the music chart; thorough training in chorus singing.

(e) Manual Training: The aim of the Manual Training course is to make the pupil systematic and thorough in his work, to train his judgment and executive faculty and to better fit him to meet the practical side of life.

In the Middle and Senior Years, especial attention is given to the teaching of methods employed in directing the teaching of Manual Training in the schools of the State.

Junior Year—Paper Folding and Cardboard Construction—15 models in Paper Folding, 20 models in Cardboard Construction.

Middle Year,—An Elementary Course in Knife Work.

Senior Year,—An advanced Course in Knife-work; also advanced work in Sloyd, using various wood-working tools.

(f) Sewing,—In this course, the ladies are taught how to hem, patch, darn, work button holes, etc.; how to draft, cut and make undergarments; how to take the measure, draft the patterns, cut, fit and make dresses.

DORCHESTER COUNTY.

OFFICE SCHOOL BOARD,
CAMBRIDGE, MD., August 26, 1902.

PROF. E. B. PRETTYMAN, Baltimore, Md.

MY DEAR SIR: I herewith respectfully submit my annual report of the public schools of Dorchester county, Md., for the fiscal year ending July 31, 1902.

You will observe that I have placed in the column of the Grammar School seventh, and in the column of the High School seventh, all pupils above the sixth grade.

This has been rendered necessary by the use of old style blank reports by our teachers during the past year, and all pupils above the sixth grade have been placed in one of these columns, and hence, represent not only seventh grade pupils, but also pupils above the seventh grade. Next year the respective grades from first to tenth will be scheduled under proper grade.

Trusting that this will prove satisfactory, I am,

Yours, very truly,

WM. P. BECKWITH,
Secretary-Treasurer and Examiner, Dorchester County, Md.

PRINCE GEORGE'S COUNTY.

UPPER MARLBORO, July 31, 1902.

PROF. E. B. PRETTYMAN,

Secretary State Board of Education, Baltimore, Maryland.

DEAR SIR—I respectfully submit the annual report for the year ending July 31, 1902.

The teachers as a body have been hard working and conscientious and the result accomplished has been fairly good.

Beg leave to state in explanation of the financial table for colored schools, that no part of the incidental expenses of the system has been charged against the colored fund. Hence, the only entries are for teachers' salaries and school incidentals, such items as appear on teachers' reports.

The county makes no levy for current expenses for colored schools. The State appropriation is the only money available. The board has given all the State money to the direct maintenance of these schools.

The financial condition is good. The entire debt is less than $4,000, notwithstanding the fact that the demands for school purposes have been unusually urgent and the State appropriation smaller than for several years past.

It is very evident that the only hope for the continuance of the schools here, for a session of nine months each year, is in the consolidation of rural schools.

C. H. STANLEY, President.

THOS. S. STONE, Secretary.
